Under the Same Sky

Britta Teckentrup

Dream Catchers
This is the front cover of the book.

What do you think the book might be about? What do you think the title means?
Listen to the story (or poem). Were your predictions correct?

Do you like it? Why or why not?
'We live under the same sky... in lands near and far.'

Where do you live now?

What do you like about where you live?

What would you like to change?
‘We live under the same sky... in lands near and far.

Where does your family live? Where has your family lived in the past?
'We play the same games...where the hills touch the sky.
We play the same games...where the grass grows so high.'

Games are fun to play. What games do you like?
Play a favourite game together. Why is it your favourite?
Track games are easy to make and fun to play. They just need a dice, counters and a track to follow.

Design a track game to share and play together.
Think about the rules and how to make it fun, with lots of opportunity to speak and listen to each other.
We dream the same dreams...
...whatever the weather.
We dream the same dreams...
...and we dream them...
...together.

What does this mean?
The BFG collected dreams in jars.

“Nice dreams. Lovely golden dreams. Dreams that is giving the dreamers a happy time.”
If you could have a dream... what would it be?
It could be a dream to have something, do something, be something or change something.

Make a dream jar to store your 'dream'.

“Somewhere inside all of us is the power to change the world.”
— Ronald Dicht
I have a dream....
If I could have one dream...

If you had a battery powered tealight you could illuminate your jar...
I have a dream.... If I could have one dream...

You could draw a Dream Jar like these children did in school last year....
Or you could write dreams and put them in a decorated jar...
"Here is the dream-catcher," he said, grasping the pole in one hand.
Every morning I is going out and snitching new dreams to put in my bottles."
Create your own dream catcher. This dream is a dream to impact your community - the place where you live, your school or your town. Make sure your 'dream' is attached, woven into, or written somewhere so that others know what your dream is.
Britta Teckentrup dedicated her book.

“For a united world.”

What do you think she means?

What would a 'united world' look like, feel like, sound like?
